

Kendall's Mission to Rhode Island.—The Rhode Islanders corroborate the truth of the charge against the Postmaster General. We are prepared to meet almost all kinds of political and individual dishonesty in the chiefs of the party but the following from N. Y. Courier and Enquirer presents a picture of a dark and forboding prospect to every true friend of the liberties of his country.—Natchez

That arch-fiend Kendall has been patched on a visit to Rhode Island; to use the weight and influence of the Government in behalf of the revenue. It is said that the revenue cutter was placed under the control of Mr. Pearce by order of Mr. Kendall and that that worthy has made it his business to block Island for the purpose of buying up the votes at that place. Nay his friends are sufficient impudent to boast that he has succeeded and point to the fact of Mr. Kendall's presence and the employment of the revenue cutter to prove the interest felt at Washington in the result of the coming struggle. A grosser outrage than this visit of Kendall and the employment of a revenue cutter in the service of a candidate for Congress has never been witnessed in our country and it should be made the subject of a special inquiry by Congress. We cannot conceive of a measure more at variance with the genius of our institutions or one which if persisted in would certainly to destroy the liberties of the country. Had any person ventured to predict ten years ago that in so short space elapsed the people would have been so corrupted as to submit such interference unrebuked would have been set down as a duncan or one wantonly insulting the intelligence of the country. But the march of despotism has ever been most insidious.

THE MESSAGE OF MR VAN BUREN. We have this precious document with its head horns and hoofs—and that is it but a rificiamento of Loco cois sugared over! The UNITED STATES that Senator Wright proposed in a St. Lawrence paper or the huge plan of the Globe is the remedy proposed for these times and this of the civilization of the world! The sub-Treasury scheme—the investing of all the public money to the custody of the office holders—the spending of all the gold and silver can be got at for them and for mint—and the leaving of the people to the rags of the banks and skin-plasters of the city corporations—is the olive branch of Mr Van Buren! The issuing of Treasury notes is hinted at to save the Government from its bankruptcy; but the people are to be left to their destiny. The wilderness of words that throng the Message we see but one idea up; and that is the saure qui of the Waterloo field—the government beginning it and abandoning all the classes of society to its fate.—New York Daily Express

It may seem right to a man—to no newspaper but the end there—that man and his family are to ignorant of the ordinary conditions of the day.

Economy.—A neighbor of ours informs us that wood goes further; is left out of doors than when used; some of his having gone up to a quarter of a mile in one day.—Yeoman's Gaz.

What next?—The half-hour steaming plying between London and Westminster bridges emits no smoke being worked by quicksilver. So says the London Herald.

The President says over trading and the New York fire caused the pestilence which has swept over the country and eat up our substance. He forgot to tell us of the incendiaries who gave the first impulse to over trading which no more originated without a cause than the great fire in New York. Shall we blame over trading and the fire on the incendiaries who have produced them?
Vicksburg Register.

AGRARIANISM.—Hillo Bill you loafer—how do you find yourself these hard times?

'Astonishing poor—look at these here patches and these rotten shoes. Jim, I think we are relics.'

'What do you find to eat now-a-days?'

'Parched corn and cabbage leaves by Moses.'

'Ha ha—good? You forgot the way to Mrs. J's kitchen.'

'Well well Jim people is'n't generous; look at this big house here where lives a man no better in my way of thinking than you or I who is worth his thousands and eats roast pig and turkey every day while we live in rags and poverty.'

'I was thinking of that same thing; and Bill, I've an idea—I don't see why the devil he should'n't be as poor as we are. I hold to an equality of rights. Every man's as good as another man and no man ought to have more than his neighbor—their's my sentiments.'

The remark like this of hard-breeched loafer puts me in mind of a complaint I heard a little truant shaver make to his play-mate the other day. They had been away with their hoops and kites Sam with leave Joe without. Joe on his return home, got a flogging for his presumption and trespass. The next time he met Sam, he hailed him:

"Sam did your father lick you yesterday?"

"Pho no?"

"Din't he? Well my father licked me and I don't see why you ain't as much right to a licking as I have!" He gave him one.—Columbus Register.

Civil war in Portugal.—Ship Constitution arrived at Boston on 19th instant from St. Ubes, whence she sailed on the 20th of August. Capt. Glidden and Mr. Tilden, passenger, inform Mr. Topliff that a civil war raged in Portugal at the time of their departure, and skirmishes daily took place between different portions of the military, and much blood shed, and many lives lost. A great portion of the populace and military were dissatisfied with the constitution and Administration of the Government and were determined to bring about an alteration of both for the better by force. To this end General Saldana one of the oldest generals in the Portuguese service were marching with a large force upon Lisbon not however depose the Queen as all parties were in her favor. In consequence of this state of affairs martial law had been proclaimed throughout the Kingdom. The Queen was very near the time of her accouchment.

The Constitution bring despatches to Government from the American Secretary of Legation at Lisbon.

Clipt. There is said to be but one quarter dollar of change in Cincinnati; and that has been borrowed so often to pay postages, that it is worn down to a pistereen.

Porter, the Kentucky giant, is seven feet seven inches high, and only 20 years old. He is now on a tour to the east, and intends visiting Europe

LARGE MAPS OF MISSISSIPPI AND ALABAMA, showing the public and Indian lands, Indian Reservations, Land Districts, Townships, Streams &c. engraved from the government surveys and plats in the General Land Office, Washington City: by E. GILMAN, Draughtsman in the General Land Office.

F. TAYLOR, Bookseller, Washington City, has just published (and secured the copyright according to law) the above maps, which will be found infinitely more complete and accurate than any heretofore published. They are published on separate sheets; each containing nearly six square feet, and will be found especially useful and valuable to those interested in the lands of either state, as they show every item of information which is in the possession of the land offices, relative to water courses, township lines, Indian lands and reservations, land districts, &c, and will be found perfectly accurate and precise in these points. They can be sent by mail to any part of the United States, subject only to single letter postage. Price two dollars, or three copies of either will be sent by mail for five dollars. A liberal discount will be made to travelling agents or to any who buy to sell again.

Editors of newspapers, any where, who will give the above advertisement (including this notice) one or two insertions, shall receive by return mail a copy of each map, if they will send a copy of the paper containing it to the advertiser.
